COUNTY OF RIVERSIDE; MARTIN

Case No. 5:25-cv-01541-DMG-Ex

STIPULATED PROTECTIVE
ORDER RE: CONFIDENTIAL
DOCUMENTS

Action Filed: 06/20/2025
Trial Date: N/A

TO THE HONORABLE COURT:

By and through their counsel of record in this action, plaintiffs ADELE SHIREY and DESTINY SHIREY (“Plaintiffs”) and defendants COUNTY OF RIVERSIDE and MARTIN HUIZAR (“Defendants”) – the parties – hereby stipulate for the purpose of jointly requesting that the honorable Court enter a protective order re confidential documents in this matter [and pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 5.2, 7, and 26, as well as U.S. Dist. Ct., S.D. Cal., Local Rules 7-1 and 52-4.1; and any applicable Orders of the Court] – as follows:

GOOD CAUSE STATEMENT

1. GOOD CAUSE STATEMENT.

1.1 Contentions re Harm from Disclosure of Confidential Materials.

1 Defendants contend that there is good cause and a particularized need for a 2 protective order to preserve the interests of confidentiality and privacy in peace officer 3 personnel file records and associated investigative or confidential records for the 4 following reasons.

5 First, Defendants contend that peace officers have a federal privilege of privacy 6 in their personnel file records: a reasonable expectation of privacy therein that is 7 underscored, specified, and arguably heightened by the Pitchess protective procedure
8 of California law. See Sanchez v. Santa Ana Police Dept., 936 F.2d 1027, 1033-1034
9 (9th Cir. 1990); Hallon v. City of Stockton, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14665, *2-3, 12-10 13 (E.D. Cal. 2012) (concluding that “while “[f]ederal law applies to privilege based 11 discovery disputes involving federal claims,” the “state privilege law which is 12 consistent with its federal equivalent significantly assists in applying [federal] 13 privilege law to discovery disputes”); Soto v. City of Concord, 162 F.R.D. 603, 613 14 n. 4, 616 (N.D. Cal. 1995) (peace officers have constitutionally-based “privacy rights 15 [that] are not inconsequential” in their police personnel records); cf. Cal. Penal Code 16 §§ 832.7, 832.8; Cal. Evid. Code §§ 1040-1047. Defendant further contends that 17 uncontrolled disclosure of such personnel file information can threaten the safety of 18 non-party witnesses, officers, and their families/associates.

19 Second, Defendants contend that municipalities and law enforcement agencies 20 have federal deliberative-executive process privilege, federal official information 21 privilege, federal law enforcement privilege, and federal attorney-client privilege 22 (and/or attorney work product protection) interests in the personnel files of their peace 23 officers – particularly as to those portions of peace officer personnel files that contain 24 critical self-analysis, internal deliberation/decision-making or evaluation/analysis, or 25 communications for the purposes of obtaining or rendering legal advice or analysis – 26 potentially including but not limited to evaluative/analytical portions of Internal 27 Affairs type records or reports, evaluative/analytical portions of supervisory records 28 or reports, and/or reports prepared at the direction of counsel, or for the purpose of

1 obtaining or rendering legal advice. See Sanchez, 936 F.2d at 1033-1034; Maricopa
2 Audubon Soc’y v. United States Forest Serv., 108 F.3d 1089, 1092-1095 (9th Cir.
3 1997); Soto, 162 F.R.D. at 613, 613 n. 4; Kelly v. City of San Jose, 114 F.R.D. 654, 4 668-671 (N.D. Cal. 1987); Tuite v. Henry, 181 F.R.D. 175, 176-177 (D. D.C. 1998); 5 Hamstreet v. Duncan, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 89702 (D. Or. 2007); Admiral Ins. Co.
6 v. United States Dist. Ct., 881 F.2d 1486, 1492, 1495 (9th Cir. 1988). Defendant 7 further contends that such personnel file records are restricted from disclosure by the 8 public entity’s custodian of records pursuant to applicable California law and that 9 uncontrolled release is likely to result in needless intrusion of officer privacy; 10 impairment in the collection of third-party witness information and statements 11 and related legitimate law enforcement investigations/interests; and a chilling of 12 open and honest discussion regarding and/or investigation into alleged 13 misconduct that can erode a public entity’s ability to identify and/or implement 14 any remedial measures that may be required.

15 Third, Defendants contend that, since peace officers do not have the same rights 16 as other private citizens to avoid giving compelled statements, it is contrary to the 17 fundamental principles of fairness to permit uncontrolled release of officers’ 18 compelled statements. See generally Lybarger v. City of Los Angeles, 40 Cal.3d 822, 19 828-830 (1985); cf. U.S. Const., amend V.

20 Accordingly, Defendants contend that, without a protective order preventing 21 such, production of confidential records in the case can and will likely substantially 22 impair and harm defendant public entity’s interests in candid self-critical analysis, 23 frank internal deliberations, obtaining candid information from witnesses, preserving 24 the safety of witnesses, preserving the safety of peace officers and peace officers’ 25 families and associates, protecting the privacy officers of peace officers, and 26 preventing pending investigations from being detrimentally undermined by 27 publication of private, sensitive, or confidential information – as can and often does 28 result in litigation.

1 Plaintiffs agree that there is Good Cause for a Protective Order so as to preserve 2 the respective interests of the parties without the need to further burden the Court with 3 such issues at this early stage of this action. Specifically, the parties jointly contend 4 that, absent this Stipulation and its associated Protective Order, the parties' respective 5 privilege interests may be impaired or harmed, and that this Stipulation and its 6 associated Protective Order may avoid such harm by permitting the parties to facilitate 7 discovery with reduced risk that privileged and/or sensitive/confidential information 8 will become matters of public record.

9 1.2. The parties jointly contend that there is typically a particularized need 10 for protection as to any medical or psychotherapeutic records because of the privacy 11 interests at stake therein. Because of these sensitive interests, a Court Order should 12 address these documents rather than a private agreement between the parties.

13 1.3. The parties therefore stipulate that there is Good Cause for, and hereby 14 jointly request that the honorable Court issue/enter, a Protective Order re confidential 15 documents consistent with the terms and provisions of this Stipulation. However, the 16 entry of a Protective Order by the Court pursuant to this Stipulation shall not be 17 construed as any ruling by the Court on the aforementioned legal statements or 18 privilege claims in this section (§ 1), nor shall this section be construed as part of any 19 such Court Order.

20 A. PURPOSES AND LIMITATIONS.

21 Disclosure and discovery activity in this action are likely to involve production 22 of confidential, proprietary, or private information for which special protection from 23 public disclosure and from use for any purpose other than prosecuting or defending 24 this litigation would be warranted. Accordingly, the parties hereby stipulate to and 25 petition the court to enter the following Stipulation and an associated Order.

26 The parties acknowledge that this Stipulation and associated Order does not 27 confer blanket protections on all disclosures or responses to discovery and that the 28 protection it affords extends only to the specified information or items that are entitled

1 to treatment as confidential.

2 The parties further acknowledge, as set forth below, that this Stipulation and 3 Order creates no entitlement to file confidential information under seal, except to the 4 extent specified herein; Central District Local Rules 79-5.1 and 79-5.2 set(s) forth the 5 procedures that must be followed and reflects the standards that will be applied when 6 a party seeks permission from the court to file material under seal.

7 Nothing in this Stipulation or associated Order shall be construed so as to 8 require or mandate that any Party disclose or produce privileged information or 9 records that could be designated as Confidential Documents/Protected Material 10 hereunder.

11 2. DEFINITIONS

19 medical records, psychotherapeutic records, and autopsy photographs; as well as 3 generated in disclosures or responses to discovery in this matter.

5 pertinent to the litigation who has been retained by a Party or its counsel to serve as 20 Discovery Material in this Action.

21       2.13 Professional Vendors: persons or entities that provide litigation support 22 services (e.g., photocopying, videotaping, translating, preparing exhibits or 25       2.14 Protected Material: any Disclosure or Discovery Material that is 26 designated as “CONFIDENTIAL.”

27       2.15 Receiving Party: a Party that receives Disclosure or Discovery Material 28 from a Producing Party.

3 only Protected Material/Confidential Documents (as defined above), but also (1) any 4 information copied or extracted from Protected Material; (2) all copies, excerpts, 5 summaries, or compilations of Protected Material; and (3) any testimony, 6 conversations, or presentations by Parties or their Counsel that might reveal Protected 7 Material. However, the protections conferred by this Stipulation and its associated 8 Order do not cover the following information: (a) any information that is in the public 9 domain at the time of disclosure to a Receiving Party or becomes part of the public 10 domain after its disclosure to a Receiving Party as a result of publication not involving 11 a violation of this Order, including becoming part of the public record through trial or 12 otherwise; and (b) any information known to the Receiving Party prior to the 13 disclosure or obtained by the Receiving Party after the disclosure from a source who 14 obtained the information lawfully and under no obligation of confidentiality to the 15 Designating Party.

16 Any use of Protected Material at trial shall be governed by the orders of the 17 trial judge. This Order does not govern the use of Protected Material at trial.

18 4. DURATION

19 Even after final disposition of this litigation, the confidentiality obligations 20 imposed by this Order shall remain in effect until a Designating Party agrees 21 otherwise in writing or a court order otherwise directs, except that Protected Material 22 that is received into evidence at trial will no longer be deemed Confidential under this 23 Order.

24 Final disposition shall be deemed to be the later of (1) dismissal of all claims 25 and defenses in this action, with or without prejudice; and (2) final judgment herein 26 after the completion and exhaustion of all appeals, rehearings, remands, trials, or 27 reviews of this action, including the time limits for filing any motions or applications 28 for extension of time pursuant to applicable law.

5. DESIGNATION OF PROTECTED MATERIAL

5.1. Exercise of Restraint and Care in Designating Material for Protection

Each Party or non-party that designates information or items for protection under this Stipulation and its associated Order must take care to limit any such designation to specific material that qualifies under the appropriate standards. A Designating Party must take care to designate for protection only those parts of material, documents, items, or oral or written communications that qualify – so that other portions of the material, documents, items or communications for which protection is not warranted are not swept unjustifiably within the ambit of this Order.

Mass, indiscriminate, or routine designations are prohibited. Designations that are shown to be clearly unjustified, or that have been made for an improper purpose (e.g., to unnecessarily encumber or retard the case development process, or to impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties), expose the Designating Party to sanctions.

If it comes to a Designating Party's attention that information or items that it designated for protection do not qualify for protection, that Designating Party must promptly notify all other Parties that it is withdrawing the inapplicable designation.

5.2. Manner and Timing of Designations. Except as otherwise provided in this Order, or as otherwise stipulated or ordered, material that qualifies for protection under this Order must be clearly so designated before the material is disclosed or produced.

Designation in conformity with this Order requires:

(a) for information in documentary form (apart from transcripts of depositions or other pretrial or trial proceedings, and regardless of whether produced in hardcopy or electronic form), that the Producing Party affix the legend "CONFIDENTIAL", to each page that contains Protected Material. If only a portion or portions of the material on a page qualifies for protection, the Producing Party also must clearly identify the protected portion(s) (e.g., by making appropriate markings

1 in the margins) and must specify, for each portion that it is “CONFIDENTIAL.” The 2 placement of such “CONFIDENTIAL” stamp on such page(s) shall not obstruct the 3 substance of the page’s (or pages’) text or content and shall be in the margin of the 4 document whenever possible.

5 A Party or Non-Party that makes original documents or materials available for 6 inspection need not designate them for protection until after the inspecting Party has 7 indicated which material it would like copied and produced. During the inspection 8 and before the designation, all of the material made available for inspection shall be 9 deemed “CONFIDENTIAL.” After the inspecting Party has identified the documents 10 it wants copied and produced, the Producing Party must determine which documents, 11 or portions thereof, qualify for protection under this Order. Then, before producing 12 the specified documents, the Producing Party must affix the “CONFIDENTIAL” 13 legend to each page that contains Protected Material. If only a portion or portions of 14 the material on a page qualifies for protection, the Producing Party also must clearly 15 identify the protected portion(s) (e.g., by making appropriate markings in the 16 margins).

17 (b) for testimony given in depositions that the Designating Party identify the 18 Disclosure or Discovery Material on the record, before the close of the deposition all 19 protected testimony.

20 (c) for information produced in some form other than documentary, and for 21 any other tangible items (including but not limited to information produced on disc or 22 electronic data storage device), that the Producing Party affix in a prominent place on 23 the exterior of the container or containers in which the information or item is stored 24 the legend “CONFIDENTIAL.” If only portions of the information or item warrant 25 protection, the Producing Party, to the extent practicable, shall identify the protected 26 portions, specifying the material as “CONFIDENTIAL.”

27 5.3. Inadvertent Failures to Designate. If timely corrected (preferably, 28 though not necessarily, within 30 days of production or disclosure of such material),

1 an inadvertent failure to designate qualified information or items as 2 “CONFIDENTIAL” does not, standing alone, waive the Designating Party’s right to 3 secure protection under this Stipulation and its associated Order for such material.

4 If material is appropriately designated as “CONFIDENTIAL” after the material 5 was initially produced, the Receiving Party, on timely notification of the designation, 6 must make reasonable efforts to assure that the material is treated in accordance with 7 this Stipulation and its associated Order.

8 6. CHALLENGING CONFIDENTIALITY DESIGNATIONS

9 6.1. Timing of Challenges. Any Party or Non-Party may challenge a 10 designation of confidentiality at any time that is consistent with the Court's 11 Scheduling Order.

12 6.2. Meet and Confer. The Challenging Party shall initiate the dispute 13 resolution process under Local Rule 37.1 et seq.

14 6.3. The burden of persuasion in any such challenge proceeding shall be on 15 the Designating Party. Frivolous challenges, and those made for an improper purpose 16 (e.g., to harass or impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties) may 17 expose the Challenging Party to sanctions. Unless the Designating Party has waived 18 or withdrawn the confidentiality designation, all parties shall continue to afford the 19 material in question the level of protection to which it is entitled under the Producing 20 Party’s designation until the Court rules on the challenge.

21 6.4. Withdrawal of “CONFIDENTIAL” Designation. At its discretion, a 22 Designating Party may remove Protected Material/Confidential Documents from 23 some or all of the protections and provisions of this Stipulation and its associated 24 Order at any time by any of the following methods:

25 (a) Express Written Withdrawal. A Designating Party may withdraw a 26 “CONFIDENTIAL” designation made to any specified Protected Material 27 /Confidential Documents from some or all of the protections of this Stipulation and 28 its associated Order by an express withdrawal in a writing signed by such Party (or

1 such Party's Counsel, but not including staff of such Counsel) that specifies and 2 itemizes the Disclosure or Discovery Material previously designated as Protected 3 Material/Confidential Documents that shall no longer be subject to all or some of the 4 provisions of this Stipulation and Order. Such express withdrawal shall be effective 5 when transmitted or served upon the Receiving Party. If a Designating Party is 6 withdrawing Protected Material from only some of the provisions/ protections of this 7 Stipulation and Order, such Party must state which specific provisions are no longer 8 to be enforced as to the specified material for which confidentiality protection 9 hereunder is withdrawn: otherwise, such withdrawal shall be construed as a 10 withdrawal of such material from all of the protections/provisions of this Stipulation 11 and Order;

12 (b) Express Withdrawal on the Record. A Designating Party may withdraw 13 a "CONFIDENTIAL" designation made to any specified Protected 14 Material/Confidential Documents from all of the provisions/protections of this 15 Stipulation and its associated Order by verbally consenting in court proceedings on 16 the record to such withdrawal – provided that such withdrawal specifies the 17 Disclosure or Discovery Material previously designated as Protected Material/18 Confidential Documents that shall no longer be subject to any of the provisions of this 19 Stipulation and Order. A Designating Party is not permitted to withdraw Protected 20 Material from only some of the protections/provisions of this Stipulation and Order 21 by this method;

22 (c) Implicit Withdrawal by Publication or Failure to Oppose Challenge. A 23 Designating Party shall be construed to have withdrawn a "CONFIDENTIAL" 24 designation made to any specified Protected Material/Confidential Documents from 25 all of the provisions/protections of this Stipulation and Order by either (1) making 26 such Protected Material/Confidential Records part of the public record – including 27 but not limited to attaching such as exhibits to any filing with the court without 28 moving, prior to such filing, for the court to seal such records; or (2) failing to timely

1 oppose a Challenging Party’s motion to remove a “CONFIDENTIAL” designation to 2 specified Protected Material/Confidential Documents. Nothing in this Stipulation and 3 Order shall be construed so as to require any Party to file Protected 4 Material/Confidential Documents under seal, unless expressly specified herein.

5 7. ACCESS TO AND USE OF PROTECTED MATERIAL

6 7.1. Basic Principles. A Receiving Party may use Protected Material that is 7 disclosed or produced by another Party or by a non-party in connection with this case 8 only for preparing, prosecuting, defending, or attempting to settle this litigation – up 9 to and including final disposition of the above-entitled action – and not for any other 10 purpose, including any other litigation or dispute outside the scope of this action.
11 Such Protected Material may be disclosed only to the categories of persons and under 12 the conditions described in this Stipulation and its associated Order. When the above 13 entitled litigation has been terminated, a Receiving Party must comply with the 14 provisions of section 13, below (FINAL DISPOSITION).

15 Protected Material must be stored and maintained by a Receiving Party at a 16 location and in a secure manner that ensures that access is limited to the persons 17 authorized under this Stipulation and its Order.

18 7.2. Disclosure of “CONFIDENTIAL” Information or Items. Unless 19 otherwise ordered by the Court or permitted in writing by the Designating Party, a 20 Receiving Party may disclose any information or item designated CONFIDENTIAL 21 only to:

22 (a) the Receiving Party’s Outside Counsel of record in this action, as well 23 as employees of such Counsel to whom it is reasonably necessary to disclose the 24 information for this litigation;

25 (b) the officers, directors, and employees (including House Counsel) of the 26 Receiving Party to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary for this litigation – each 27 of whom, by accepting receipt of such Protected Material, thereby agree to be bound 28 by this Stipulation and Order;

1 (c) Experts (as defined in this Stipulation and Order) of the Receiving Party 2 to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary for this litigation – each of whom, by 3 accepting receipt of such Protected Material, thereby agree to be bound by this 4 Stipulation and Order;

5 (d) court reporters, their staffs, and Professional Vendors to whom 6 disclosure is reasonably necessary for this litigation – each of whom, by accepting 7 receipt of such Protected Material, thereby agree to be bound by this Stipulation and 8 Order;

9 (e) during their depositions, witnesses in the action to whom disclosure is 10 reasonably necessary – each of whom, by accepting receipt of such Protected 11 Material, thereby agree to be bound by this Stipulation and Order. Pages of transcribed 12 deposition testimony or exhibits to depositions that reveal Protected Material must 13 have a confidential designation affixed by the court reporter to such pages containing 14 Protected Material and such may not be disclosed to anyone except as permitted under 15 this Stipulation and its Protective Order.

16 (f) the author or custodian of a document containing the information that 17 constitutes Protected Material, or other person who otherwise possessed or knew the 18 information.

19 (g) any mediator or settlement officer, and their supporting personnel, 20 mutually agreed upon by any of the parties engaged in settlement discussions.

21 7.3. Notice of Confidentiality. Prior to producing or disclosing Protected 22 Material/Confidential Documents to persons to whom this Stipulation and its Order 23 permits disclosure or production (see section 8.2, supra), a Receiving Party shall 24 provide a copy of this Stipulation and Order to such persons so as to put such persons 25 on notice as to the restrictions imposed upon them herein: except that, for court 26 reporters, Professional Vendors, and for witnesses being provided with Protected 27 Material during a deposition, it shall be sufficient notice for Counsel for the Receiving 28 Party to give the witness a verbal admonition (on the record, for witnesses) regarding

1 the provisions of this Stipulation and its Order and such provisions’ applicability to 2 specified Protected Material at issue.

3 7.4. Reservation of Rights. Nothing in this Stipulation and Order shall be 4 construed so as to require any Producing Party to designate any records or materials 5 as “CONFIDENTIAL.” Nothing in this Stipulation and Order shall be construed so 6 as to prevent the admission of Protected Material into evidence at the trial of this 7 action, or in any appellate proceedings for this action, solely on the basis that such 8 Disclosure or Discovery Material has been designated as Protected 9 Material/Confidential Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this 10 Stipulation and Order shall be construed as a waiver of any privileges or of any rights 11 to object to the use or admission into evidence of any Protected Material in any 12 proceeding; nor shall anything herein be construed as a concession that any privileges 13 asserted or objections made are valid or applicable. Nothing in this Stipulation and 14 Order shall be construed so as to prevent the Designating Party (or its Counsel or 15 custodian of records) from having access to and using Protected Material designated 16 by that Party in the manner in which such persons or entities would typically use such 17 materials in the normal course of their duties or profession – except that the waiver of 18 confidentiality provisions shall apply (see section 6.4(c), supra).

19 7.5. Requirement to File Confidential Documents Under Seal. Confidential 20 Documents may be submitted in all law and motion proceedings before the Court if 21 done so under seal pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 5.2 and 26 and/or 22 United States District Court, Central District of California Local Rules 79-5.1 and 79-23 5.2 (as applicable) and pursuant to the provisions of this Stipulation and any 24 associated Order. If any Receiving Party attaches any Confidential Documents to any 25 pleading, motion, or other paper to be filed, lodged, or otherwise submitted to the 26 Court, such Confidential Document(s) shall be filed/lodged under seal pursuant to 27 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 5.2 and 26 and/or United States District Court, 28 Central District of California Local Rules 79-5.1 and 79-5.2 to the extent applicable.

1 However, this paragraph (§ 7.5) shall not be construed so as to prevent a 2 Designating Party or counsel from submitting, filing, lodging, or publishing any 3 document it has previously designated as a Confidential Document without 4 compliance with this paragraph's requirement to do so under seal (i.e., a producing-5 disclosing party or counsel may submit or publish its own Confidential Documents 6 without being in violation of the terms of this Stipulation and its Protective Order).

7 Furthermore, a Receiving Party shall be exempted from the requirements of 8 this paragraph as to any specifically identified Confidential Document(s) where – 9 prior to the submission or publication of the Confidential Document(s) at issue – the 10 Designating Party of such specifically identified Confidential Document(s) has 11 waived/withdrawn the protections of this Stipulation and its Order (pursuant to 12 paragraph 6.4, supra).

13 8. PROTECTED MATERIAL SUBPOENAED OR ORDERED
14 PRODUCED IN OTHER LITIGATION

15 If a Party is served with a subpoena or a court order issued in other litigation 16 that compels disclosure of any information or items designated in this action as 17 “CONFIDENTIAL,” that Party must:

18 (a) promptly notify in writing the Designating Party, preferably (though not 19 necessarily) by facsimile or electronic mail. Such notification shall include a copy of 20 the subpoena or court order at issue;

21 (b) promptly notify in writing the party who caused the subpoena or order to 22 issue in the other litigation that some or all of the material covered by the subpoena 23 or order is subject to this Stipulation and its Protective Order. Such notification shall 24 include a copy of this Stipulation and its Protective Order; and 25 (c) cooperate with respect to all reasonable procedures sought to be pursued 26 by all sides in any such situation, while adhering to the terms of this Stipulation and 27 its Order.

28 If the Designating Party timely seeks a protective order, the Party served with

1 the subpoena or court order shall not produce any information designated in this action
2 as “CONFIDENTIAL” before a determination by the court from which the subpoena 3 or order issued, unless the Party has obtained the Designating Party’s permission. The 4 Designating Party shall bear the burden and expense of seeking protection in that court 5 of its confidential material – and nothing in these provisions should be construed as 6 authorizing or encouraging a Receiving Party in this action to disobey a lawful 7 directive from another court.

8 The purpose of this section is to ensure that the affected Party has a meaningful 9 opportunity to preserve its confidentiality interests in the court from which the 10 subpoena or court order issued.

11 9. A NON-PARTY’S PROTECTED MATERIAL SOUGHT TO BE 12 PRODUCED IN THIS LITIGATION

13 (a) The terms of this Order are applicable to information produced by a Non-14 Party in this Action and designated as “CONFIDENTIAL.” Such information 15 produced by Non-Parties in connection with this litigation is protected by the 16 remedies and relief provided by this Order. Nothing in these provisions should be 17 construed as prohibiting a Non-Party from seeking additional protections.

18 (b) In the event that a Party is required, by a valid discovery request, to 19 produce a Non-Party’s confidential information in its possession, and the Party is 20 subject to an agreement with the Non-Party not to produce the Non-Party’s 21 confidential information, then the Party shall:

- 22 (1) promptly notify in writing the Requesting Party and the Non-Party 23 that some or all of the information requested is subject to a 24 confidentiality agreement with a Non-Party;
- 25 (2) promptly provide the Non-Party with a copy of the Stipulated 26 Protective Order in this Action, the relevant discovery request(s), 27 and a reasonably specific description of the information requested; 28 and

(3) make the information requested available for inspection by the Non-Party, if requested.

(c) If the Non-Party fails to seek a protective order from this court within 14 days of receiving the notice and accompanying information, the Receiving Party may produce the Non-Party's confidential information responsive to the discovery request. If the Non-Party timely seeks a protective order, the Receiving Party shall not produce any information in its possession or control that is subject to the confidentiality agreement with the Non-Party before a determination by the court. Absent a court order to the contrary, the Non-Party shall bear the burden and expense of seeking protection in this court of its Protected Material.

10. UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED MATERIAL

If a Receiving Party learns that, by inadvertence or otherwise, it has disclosed Protected Material to any person or in any circumstance not authorized under this Stipulation and Order, the Receiving Party must immediately:

- (a) notify in writing the Designating Party of the unauthorized disclosures;
- (b) use its best efforts to retrieve all copies of the Protected Material;
- (c) inform the person or persons to whom unauthorized disclosures were made of all the terms of this Order; and
- (d) request such person or persons consent to be bound by the Stipulation and Order.

11. INADVERTENT PRODUCTION OF PRIVILEGED OR OTHERWISE PROTECTED MATERIAL

When a Producing Party gives notice to Receiving Parties that certain inadvertently produced material is subject to a claim of privilege or other protection, the obligations of the Receiving Parties are those set forth in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(b)(5)(B). This provision is not intended to modify whatever procedure may be established in an e-discovery order that provides for production without prior

1 privilege review. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 502(d) and (e), insofar as the 2 parties reach an agreement on the effect of disclosure of a communication or 3 information covered by the attorney-client privilege or work product protection, the 4 parties may incorporate their agreement in the stipulated protective order submitted 5 to the court.

6 12. MISCELLANEOUS

7 12.1 Right to Further Relief. Nothing in this Order abridges the right of any 8 person to seek its modification by the Court in the future.

9 12.2 Right to Assert Other Objections. By stipulating to the entry of this 10 Protective Order no Party waives any right it otherwise would have to object to 11 disclosing or producing any information or item on any ground not addressed in this 12 Stipulated Protective Order. Similarly, no Party waives any right to object on any 13 ground to use in evidence of any of the material covered by this Protective Order.

14 12.3 Filing Protected Material. A Party that seeks to file under seal any 15 Protected Material must comply with Civil Local Rule 79-5. Protected Material may 16 only be filed under seal pursuant to a court order authorizing the sealing of the specific 17 Protected Material at issue. If a Party's request to file Protected Material under seal is 18 denied by the court, then the Receiving Party may file the information in the public 19 record unless otherwise instructed by the court.

20 13. FINAL DISPOSITION

21 Unless otherwise ordered or agreed in writing by the Producing Party, within 22 sixty (60) days after the final termination of this action (defined as the dismissal or 23 entry of judgment by the above named court, or if an appeal is filed, the disposition 24 of the appeal), upon written request by the Producing Party, each Receiving Party 25 must return all Protected Material to the Producing Party – whether retained by the 26 Receiving Party or its Counsel, Experts, Professional Vendors, agents, or any non-27 party to whom the Receiving Party produced or shared such records or information.

28 As used in this subdivision, “all Protected Material” includes all copies,

1 abstracts, compilations, summaries or any other form of reproducing or capturing any 2 of the Protected Material, regardless of the medium (hardcopy, electronic, or 3 otherwise) in which such Protected Material is stored or retained.

4 In the alternative, at the discretion of the Receiving Party, the Receiving Party 5 may destroy some or all of the Protected Material instead of returning it – unless such 6 Protected Material is an original, in which case, the Receiving Party must obtain the 7 Producing Party’s written consent before destroying such original Protected Material.

8 Whether the Protected Material is returned or destroyed, the Receiving Party 9 must submit a written certification to the Producing Party (and, if not the same person 10 or entity, to the Designating Party) within sixty (60) days of the aforementioned 11 written request by the Designating Party that specifically identifies (by category, 12 where appropriate) all the Protected Material that was returned or destroyed and that 13 affirms that the Receiving Party has not retained any copies, abstracts, compilations, 14 summaries or other forms of reproducing or capturing any of the Protected material 15 (in any medium, including but not limited to any hardcopy, electronic or digital copy, 16 or otherwise).

17 Notwithstanding this provision, Counsel are entitled to retain an archival copy 18 of all pleadings, motion papers, transcripts, legal memoranda filed with the court in 19 this action, as well as any correspondence or attorney work product prepared by 20 Counsel for the Receiving Party, even if such materials contain Protected Material; 21 however, any such archival copies that contain or constitute Protected Material remain 22 subject to this Protective Order as set forth in Section 4 (DURATION), above.

23 Any violation of this Order may be punished by any and all appropriate 24 including, without limitation, contempt proceedings and/or monetary sanctions.
